Changes At Playgrounds?

The reliability of counting procedures, by which large numbers of children were reported as using playground facilities, was challenged Monday night by Recreation Committee members.

James O'Reilly first suggested that the dollar-cost per child should be determined, on the basis that when only a few children are using a playground, it may be cheaper to transport them somewhere else.

Throughout the meeting, there was repeated reference to the cumulative totals published in other years by playground personnel. Members said these figures were totals arrived at by adding the morning and afternoon attendance together, even if these were the same children; that registration procedures permitted and encouraged double and even triple counting.

The point of the survey, which members finally agreed to make, is to determine whether some playgrounds are being fully used, and at what times.

This would then have a bearing on recommendations to staff the grounds on a more selective basis.

Instead of being restrictive, it was explained that better use of the staff could be made, and that more

Bagpipers In Their Glory This Saturday Evening

The stirring martial strains of "Scotland the Brave" will open the program Saturday evening at 8 p.m. when the pipes and drums of the Clan MacPherson Bagpipe Band of Lawrence presents its second local all-Scottish concert
"Highland Pageantry" at the Andover Junior High School.

Slow marches, traditional melodies, marches, strathspeys and reels will be featured as the colorful kiltie band combines old favorites and maneuvers with new tunes and formations.

"Highland Regiments in Review" will salute the Gordon Highlanders, the Black Watch, the Camerons, and the Kings Own Scottish Borderers, all famous Highland regiments rich in tradition and heritage.

The popular Highland Fling, the intricate Shean Trubhais, the intricate Sword Dance and the graceful Scottish Lilt will be demonstrated by Highland dancers Linda Call, Alison Campbell, Marilyn Taylor and Linda Thomson.

Some of the familiar and well-loved songs of Scotland will be sung by Mrs. Margaret Thomson, Mrs.
Shirley Brennan, and George Hardie accompanied by Miss Nan Lindsay. Accordionists Albert
Rowe, Andrew Campbell and Frank Rowe will entertain with a medley mont, N. H., a former resident of the Greater Lawrence community who is well-known in Scottish circles for past performances at clan functions, will serve as master of ceremonies.

Overtime Work Provides Some Additional Coverage

Police Chief David L. Nicoll expects to confer at length with the town manager this week, to map plans for better patrol coverage in the community.

The joint recommendation of the two men will be presented to the Selectmen for consideration.

While this effort is going on, the chief has assigned two men to an overtime stint, to maintain West Andover coverage between 11:30 and 1 a.m. The two men normally work from 3:30 p.m. to 11:30.

Word of this move is contained in a letter from Selectman Philip K. Allen to James D. Platt, president of the West Andover Community Association. Mr. Allen, as chairman of the Board, also suggests the probability that a plan will be presented to the Board.
Residents of West Andover complained a week ago that coverage is poor, and at times non-existent.
Appearing before the Selectmen, the residents asked for improvements, and answers to a variety of allegations contained in a petition. Later it was determined that many complaints were also attached to the petition, but were not publicly noted. These cover traffic, property damage, breaking and entering and a multitude of diverse items.

The letter to Mr. Platt, released by the Selectmen, stated:

"The Selectmen have been working with the town manager and

The meeting closed with the flag ceremony, with Lynne Buchann, Mary Moriarty and Kathy Bradley as color guards.

Assemblies Have Been Held 13 Years

The November Club Assemblies, now completing their 13th year of continuing activity, have come close to becoming an Andover tradition.

Originated in 1951 to answer a community need, the November Club has sponsored the Assemblies with Walter Brown and Harry Raymond of Boston serving as instructors exclusively.

While dancing instruction is stressed, other benefits of the assemblies are equally important. Each young person is trained to greet hostesses, proceed properly through a receiving line, make introductions and graciously take his leave. Mothers of class members serve as hostesses.

Changing times may affect new dance steps, but both instructors feel that certain decorum is never outmoded. Beginning at 5th grade level, the young ladies attending are required to wear the traditional white gloves and the young gentlemen must wear coat and tie.

Plans have now been completed for the assemblies in the 1964-'65 season with Mrs. Harold Nadler serving as chairman for the program. Mrs. Nadler will be assisted by Mrs. Richard Anderson, Mrs. George L. Cady III, Mrs. Richard Gould, Mrs. S. Joseph Hoffman, Mrs. Mervyn Manning Jr., Mrs. Dennis Pettigrew, Mrs. Maurice Phillips and Mrs. Alexander Robins.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Milligan and daughter, Joyce, of Tewksbury st. were recently the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Collidge of Norwood.

Sherman Wants Topics Considered

Newly-elected School Committee member Robert Sherman has some specific ideas on future meeting topics.

He furnished the Board with a list of items he wishes to have discussed at future sessions, and promised he would continue to press for consideration of the items until they have been talked over by the Committee.

The list of topics includes the following:
Review the overall program for obtaining the estimates of future school population.

"What is our committee going to do about centralized purchasing as specified in the town charter?"

"Request the superintendent for recommendation on when to teach the 'how to study' courses."

"There is a need for determining the effectiveness of the Andover schools on an absolute basis, and on a relative basis. How should this be done, and what are the best methods for communicating the results to the community."

"Communications between the school and the community need to be strengthened. Is the community conference on education an appropriate method? What other means should be considered?"

"The forward progress of our schools is only as good as the planning that goes into the development. The superintendent should be requested to prepare a list of changes, additions, and improvements that will be pursued during the coming year. At the end of this period, the list would be reviewed and reissued for the next year. Each member of the committee should be requested to prepare a list of changes, additions, and improvements to be pursued during the coming year. This list would also be reviewed and reissued. "Can the summer school charges be reduced where more than one child in a family wishes to enroll?"

"Consideration of lengthening of the school day in the high and junior high schools."

"A review of our recruiting practices for obtaining new teachers."

Canberra recently assisted in the transporting of a Greek seaman with an appendicitis attack from a Greek merchant vessel to hospital facilities in San Diego. Canberra's doctor boarded the merchant vessel, and assisted in removing the seaman. Canberra then steamed to within four miles of the entrance of the San Diego ship channel, where the stricken seaman was removed by the Coast Guard Cutter Cape Hatteras and transported to a waiting ambulance and to the hospital. Canberra then returned to sea to continue operations.

Disaster Service From Red Cross

The objective of Red Cross Disaster Relief is to support the work of government authorities in alleviating the distress caused by disasters.

The Red Cross will provide food, clothing, shelter, emergency medical and nursing care, and rehabilitation to disaster victims as necessary to supplement their own resources. Generally, this relief will be dispensed to each affected family on an individual basis by the volunteers of the local Red Cross Chapter, utilizing the funds contributed by the community. In major disasters, like the recent floods in the Ohio Valley, the National Red Cross will provide mass care through its trained relief workers and with its financial resources. The Red Cross does not accept payment for its services; its assistance is an outright gift.

Trustees Provide Special Funds

The Pynchard Trustees at a recent meeting voted to allocate money for three requests made by Philip F. Wormwood, principal of Andover High.

The requests were for the amounts of $500 for overhead projects, $300 to buy material for a program in dramatics and $200 to purchase professional reading material for teachers.

Each year the Pynchard Trustees meet with the high school principal to consider his recommendations related to projects or equipment that could be financed by the Pynchard Fund. The Pynchard Trustees are the Rev. Frederick B. Noss, president; Harry Sellars, secretary-treasurer; Arthur W. Cole, Fred W. Doyle, C. Carleton Kimball, the Rev. J. Edison Pike, Edmond E. Hammond and the Rev. Bruce Van Blair.

Band Parents To Make Plans

Officers and Committee members of the Band Parents Association will meet in executive session April 20, at 8 o'clock at the home of Association President Herman C. Koester on Lovejoy rd.

Plans for the up-coming election of officers, a band picnic at the Log Cabin following the Memorial Day parade and for a banquet to honor graduating seniors, will be made.

When we consider the highly miraculous state of surgery today, it is difficult to understand the low esteem in which it has been held at varying times down through the centuries.

In the middle ages, for example, surgery was considered an unfit occupation for a gentleman or scholar. As a result, surgical operations were performed largely by barbers or vagrant practitioners who set up shop in any likely locale.

A trip to the tonsorial parlor in those early days was likely to be a grim excursion which might call for anything from a shave and a haircut to an appendectomy.

A trip to SHAW-SHEEN PHARMACY, however, is your guarantee of satisfaction. Third Local CASH Payment

Like all retail stores, the Andover CO-OP takes a lot of cash out of the local economy. But unlike some retail outlets, the CO-OP ploughs a lot of that cash back into the local economy.

It does this because the CO-OP's way of doing business is unique and because of its widely diversified local ownership.

Earlier this month we paid out many, many thousands of dollars to many hundreds of local citizens both as CASH refunds on their purchases and as CASH dividends on their shares of CO-OP stock.

Later this month we shall pay out more CASH to the many holders of our 1960 Building Expansion notes.

By circulating these three substantial amounts of CASH back into the pockets of its customers and friends, the Andover CO-OP gives a boost to the entire local economy, because this unique business enterprise belongs to many hundreds of local families who own it, shop at it, help finance it and get substantial returns from it as CASH, to spend in any way they wish.

Cub Scout Pack 100 of the Henry C. Sanborn School toured Otis Air Force Base Saturday, April 11.

KEY TO UNDERSTANDING - National Library week has utilized the slogan this year: "Reading Is the Key to Understanding". Here, Mrs. Miriam McArdle, supervisor of music in the public schools, makes use of some of the Library materials available in her special field of interest. (Staff Photo)

Art Work From Waste Articles

Sculpture and photographs created from materials and objects found largely in the town dump, will be on display at Abbot Academy's John Esther Gallery.

Roger Mandie and Russell Munroe, creators of the show, and teaching fellows at Phillips Academy, believe that since man's waste has become a significant factor on our landscape, it deserves to be looked at closely.

Some of the works in the show may be considered ugly, while others are quite beautiful. Whatever the reaction of the viewer, Munson and Mandie are sure that the works will be provocative.

Mandie, who did the sculpture in the show, is a recent graduate of Williams College where he majored in Art. He has exhibited sculpture at the Addison Gallery, and has had a one-man show of his paintings at Williams.

Munson is a Wingate Paine Fellow in Photography at Phillips, and graduated from Yale University in 1960 with a major in graphic design. He has had photographs exhibited in Denver, Colo.; New Haven, and New York City.

The exhibit will be from Wednesday, April 15 to May 5. The public is cordially invited to attend and there is no charge for admission.

Home Residents Are

New residents are Mr. and Mrs. William G. Scheerer and their two children, who moved into a new home on Haven dr. recently.

Their children are Billy, who is almost three, and Laura, 18 months. Formerly residents of New Providence, N. J., they have moved here because of Mr. Scheerer's transfer to the Bell Telephone Laboratories in North Andover.

Kathy Boyle of Sudbury spent the weekend as guest of her friend, Gwen Warwick of Greenfield rd.

Sanborn School Under Discussion

The School Committee met briefly recently with members of the Sanborn School Building Committee, to discuss details of finishing work on the grounds.

There is a balance in the account which, according to Chairman Warren Lewis, would pay for needed work.

The School Board received four letters from parents, complaining about the unfinished areas.

Mr. Lewis plans to confer with Architect Frank Crimp, who designed and supervised construction of the new elementary school.

NEW MEMBER

Richard W. Breck Jr. of Andover was enrolled as a new member of the New England Purchasing Agents Association at the monthly dinner meeting.

Mr. Breck is purchasing agent for Raytheon Company of Lexington.

Need For Direction

The town's recreation program, far from being a vital, coherent entity, seems to be a maze of confusion and never-solved problems.

A close look at the troubles in that department, during Monday night's Recreation Committee meeting, emphasized the belief that direction, firmly supported all the way, must be given to the program.

The seven-member Committee, and the director as well, seem to be squarely in the middle — without the power or authority to do much besides talk and recommend.

The director is responsible to the manager, who in turn must answer to the Selectmen. Thus the latter are in the position of exercising control over recreation policy. They promise to do this, but have not yet done so.

We are not sure that the Board, as a whole, has a clear concept of the program being recommended by the director; the Recreation Committee should make certain that full understanding prevails before action is taken. The seven members are in a position to explain, even to influence the Selectmen. The director, as a full-time employee, can not reasonably be expected to go over his boss's head.

Until all of the responsible town officials come to an agreement — first on what is recommended, then on what can be done in 1964 — we can have no effective, forceful program for the children or adults.

There has been so much pulling and hauling, and politics has become such a major factor in discussions of recreation policy, that we hesitate to offer any specific suggestions because this would only further muddy the waters.

The only sensible thing now is to have all of the involved officials — policy makers, employees, advisors — talk to each other about the mutual problems. At least this should be a start towards better cooperation and understanding. Then can come, not easily but only after mature debate and discussion, a policy which can be easily defined, carefully followed, and enthusiastically supported.

Talents Wasted

For many, many years, it has been customary for Finance Committee members to serve for three years — no more.

On some occasions, of course, it was good to see a change, to get a new direction and different thinking on the Committee.

But in a great many other cases, members are just reaching the stage where they can contribute a lot to the Committee, and then get off. This is a waste of talent, and should be remedied. Just as in any job, it takes some time to learn the ropes; it's a shame to allow a man to do this, then not put his accumulated knowledge to work.

Story Hours

This week the story hour Thursday afternoon will be a program of movie and filmstrips, with a story or two. "Wind From The West" is the movie, which runs for about twenty minutes. This is a tale of Lapland, as a young boy dreams of the day when he will accompany the reindeer herdsman in the yearly migration to the mountains.

For the younger children, there will be a filmstrip story of Peter Rabbit, the old favorite.

Thursday afternoon, April 23, at 3:35 o'clock, the story hour will be based on the theme "Enchant 4 Lands". One of the stories which will interest all listeners, is "Castles Under The Sea". All boys and girls are invited to story hours, held through the school year Thursday afternoons, always at the same hour, 3:35 o'clock. Mothers should allow about an hour for a story program.

National Library Week

The observation of National Library Week will continue through Saturday, April 18 at the Memorial Hall Library. Thursday afternoon's story hour is the final planned activity, but the displays of new books will remain on view for the browsers who want to see the best of the spring publications, and to reserve a few. This week has been chosen to give special recognition to the 400th anniversary of the birth of Shakespeare. The Great Books group read and discussed "King Lear"; the children have had a story hour in which several young people dramatized scenes from Macbeth, and a brief introduction to the life and works of Shakespeare was given. "An Evening of Shakespeare" was held Wednesday for those who enjoy the times of Shakespeare in Elizabethan England, and those to whom the theater of that period is interesting. Books and a booklist have been displayed in the main reading room, showing the wealth of material that there is on the life and work of the Bard and his contemporaries.

The new books have come in for their share of attention, as dozens of titles on each table have been scanned by readers who take this opportunity to see and handle the ever-charming fresh copies of spring titles.

Flowers and a sense of spring are helping this week to be one of the best of the annual library programs.

Travel Talk

The final Travel Talk in the spring series will be held in the library on Friday evening, April 24, at 8 o'clock. Mr. Harold Raf-ton will show color slides taken on a trip "through the Wyoming mountains", his theme for the evening. There are scenes of mountains ranging up to 13,000 feet among his slides, and, as usual, Mr. Raf-ton will talk along with the showing, pointing out the highlights of each slide. Time is allowed after each program for questions from the audience. All are most cordially invited to bring friends and come to this pleasant program.

Library closed

The Library will be closed in all departments Monday, April 20, Ballardvale branch will open Tuesday for the usual hours, 2-5 and 6-8 o'clock. Books may be left in the book box outside the Memorial Hall Library if necessary.

New Investment Service

The Memorial Hall Library wishes to announce that it has added another aid for the investor in a new advisory service "Moody's Insurance Stocks." This bi-weekly publication is devoted to insurance (Life, Fire and Casualty), and Bank Stocks, and other financial issues: S.B.I.C.'s, Savings and Loan Companies, Mutual Fund Management Companies, and Finance Companies. The new service focuses on in-depth analyses of individual stocks, with recommendations for the investor; on general outlook for stock groups; it interprets pertinent news and how it will affect stock, gives tables for comparison and includes supplementary reports when necessary.

"Moody's Insurance Stocks" is shelved in the reference room, near the other Moody publications.

MEMBER OF CHOIR

Barbara J. Klie, daughter of Mr. Robert H. Klie, 17 Rolling Ridge rd., is a member of the alto section of "The Meister-singers", 43-voice concert choir of Ursinus College students, which has just opened its spring season.

Miss Klie, a junior, is majoring in mathematics. She is also a member of the 225-voice chorus which presents Handel's "Messiah" each year just before the students leave for their Christmas holidays.

What Our Readers Say—

To the Editor of the Townsman:

"Some weeks ago your paper published three informative letters by Col. Coates, which directed our attention to the value of centralized purchasing as inferred from average results on a national scale. It was reported that 15% was saved.

"Since that time, a speaker from Boston, with much experience in municipal finance, suggested that centralized purchasing is not an unmixed blessing where gross bid items amount to less than $3,000,00 yearly. With Andover, it is doubtful that as much as $400,000 a year is purchased on a competitive bid basis. Such items as all public utility purchasing together with all salary and wage payments are not subject to it.

"Now we have additional evidence, this time at the other end of the scale where purchasing is very large, that centralized purchasing is not all that it is supposed to be. A. P. Sloan Jr., in his current best seller, reports that after 10 years of use, General Motors gave up that method. Suppliers would bid one price for supplying an item for the entire corporation. Then, upon losing the bid, would approach a division of the corporation and propose to supply the identical item, but in much smaller quantities, at a price even lower than the successful bidder. At least this indicates how difficult it is to know even approximately what is the best price which can be had in the market place under prevailing conditions.

"When Andover reaches the place where such buying justifies itself, it might be wise to consider the merits of an independent central purchasing agent, elected directly by the people, and one of whose obligations would be to keep the public informed of all its functions and accomplishments in accord with a directive concerning its implied powers."

SECONDARY SCHOOL PLAN FOR JUNE MEETING

The School Building Committee retains some hope that secondary school construction can be voted on at the June special town meeting.

In a session Tuesday night, members went over a proposed timetable, meeting the June 10 town meeting date. They will confer with the architects next week to determine how quickly specific plans can be presented. The first major step is for the Building Committee to select the type of construction program it wishes to recommend.

CHANGES MAY COME IN PLAYGROUND HOURS

Areas of town can be covered with specific activities. Keeping the staff tied down for a full day at each playground does not give this mobility, according to Director Leslie Bartow.

He said suggestions for the expanded, rather than restricted, service had been misunderstood by the public and by the Selectmen. The wrong impression, he felt, is that grounds are being closed. In fact, Bartow reminded the Recreation Committee, children could use the playground equipment during hours when the staff is not there.

He also predicted that the survey of last year's attendance will show a heavy concentration when special activity personnel were at the playgrounds, and that it dropped off sharply when these activities were not being conducted. This proves, he feels, the value of scheduling specific activities rather than carrying out a day-long program.

PAPER DRIVE

Should You Invest in LIFE INSURANCE STOCKS?

Life insurance stocks seldom come to the attention of the average investor, since they are not listed on the stock exchanges. Their generally high price per share tends to discourage public interest. Yet, many strong, growing life insurance company shares are currently selling at price-earnings ratios which are no higher than those of many ordinary industrial company stocks.

In a recent market letter Draper, Sears outlines the reasons why they believe Life Insurance stocks merit serious investor consideration.

Abbot Student Winner In Spanish-Speaking Contest

Abbot and Phillips Academies were hosts last Saturday to the 13th Spoken Spanish Contest.

In this annual event, sponsored by the Pan American Society of New England and the American Association of Teachers of Spanish and Portuguese, students from 49 schools and colleges in New England competed in 10 categories.

The theme selected for the 1964 contest was "Guatemala — Past and Present". In the preliminary session, held at Abbot Academy during the morning, 80 contestants met in small groups according to their present level in the study of Spanish. They were judged on their ability to express themselves in the language as they answered questions based on the theme.

After a luncheon served to contestants and officials at Abbot Academy, the group convened for the final session of the contest in the Kemper Auditorium of Phillips Academy. There they listened to an illustrated lecture by Dr. Ricardo Bressani of Guatemala, who is at present visiting associate professor of agriculture and food chemistry at M.I.T. The material of Dr. Bressani's lecture was used as a basis for the presentations made by the contestants chosen to take part in the final session of the contest.

Prizes including books, records, A.A.T.S.P. medals for excellence, and scholarships for summer study in Mexico, were presented to the following finalists: Public Schools, second year: Sam Forter, Hingham High School, Stephen Throp, Wellesley High School; Public Schools, third year: Chantal Moreau, Newton South High School, Betty Lundquist, Wachusett Regional High School; Public Schools, fourth year: Donald Ferro, Wachusett Regional High School, Dale Ferguson, Wayland High School; Private Schools, second year: Mary Jane Duffy, Archbishop Williams High School, J. Measles On Wane
After Epidemic

An epidemic of German measles - with 980 reported cases from Jan. 1 to April 14 - is beginning to taper off, according to officials of the Board of Health.

Dr. John J. Wholey, in reporting the higher incidence of the mild disease, stressed that "it is usually of no serious significance except with pregnant women". He suggested that it might be best for girls to be exposed to the disease, rather than to have it in later years. Dr. Wholey also pointed out that permanent immunity follows one attack.

Throughout the state, the number of reported cases has been unusually high this year.

Locally, the records show that there has never been a year when so many cases have been reported. Officials feel certain that the actual number of cases is considerably higher than those recorded. The mildness of the disease many times results in a lack of follow-through in the matter of reporting, it is explained.

Miss Mears was born in Andover. She had resided in Lawrence for most of her life and had been employed for over 15 years at the Burke Hospital. She attended the Lawrence Street Congregational Church, Lawrence.

She leaves four sisters, Florence, wife of Arthur Mason and Miss Gladys Mears, both of Lawrence, Helen, wife of Louis Parah and Dorothy, wife of Lloyd Marcus, both of Syracuse, N. Y.; a brother, Charles Mears of Lawrence; also several nieces and nephews.

The funeral will be held Friday, with services at 3 p.m. at the Carl W. Knightly Funeral Home, 440 Broadway, Lawrence. The Rev. Edward H. Glennie, minister of Trinity Congregational Church, will officiate. Burial will be in West Parish Cemetery.

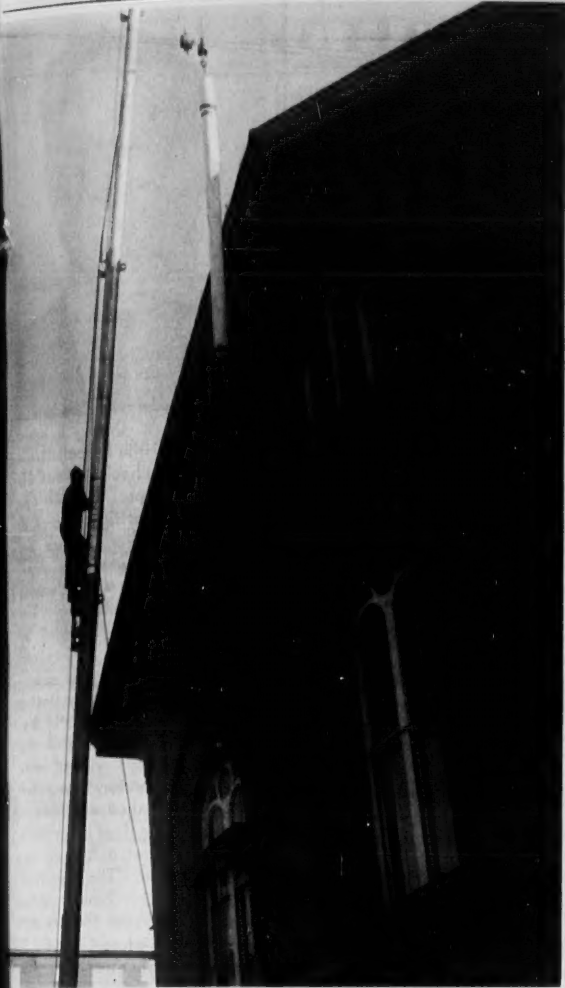

Friends may call today from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m.

2 Local Delegates To National Meeting

Mrs. Douglas Dunbar Jr., president, and Mrs. Gerald Cornwell, vice president, of the Andover League of Women Voters will be among the 1,200 delegates expected to attend the national convention of the League of Women Voters of the United States April 20-24 in Pittsburgh, Pa.

Selecting a 1964-66 program of work and study, along with electing officers and directors for two year terms and adopting a budget for next year, will be chief business of the convention. "Equality of Opportunity: Evaluation of U. S. policies and programs to provide for all citizens equality of opportunity for education and employment" is the new program subject proposed by the national board to be debated and discussed. The nomination of Mrs. Robert J. Stuart of Spokane, Wash., as 1964-66 national president, is the first such choice made from a west coast state.

Earth's Core
Although the earth's core is one of nature's most closely guarded secrets, scientists conclude that it consists of about 90% iron and 10% nickel.

THE END! For a number of years now, suggestions have been made to erect a new flag pole at town hall and remove the one fastened to the building. Last week, using a 110-foot tree rig, the old flag pole was removed. The largest section was cut loose and lowered, then the workman unfastened bolts holding the base against the building. Here, the remains of the pole swing free, as the climber hastens to descend the telescopic boom. The new pole will be set in the ground and will be easier to maintain.

Camp Fire Girls

The Junior High Camp Fire Girls, at their regular meeting on the evening of April 7, met at South Church to hear Gretha Schermerhorn. Gretha is Andover's second American Field Service student. She spoke to the girls about her views on the United States and Andover. In addition she gave a description of her life in Holland, as well as the customs of her home country. After her formal talk, she answered the many questions put to her by the girls.

Members of the groups in attendance were Marcia Anderson, Andy Lorenholm, Betty Briggs, Mary Christopher, Laurie Foster, Beverly Haeffling, Betsy Hand, Carol Klempa, Betty Jo McEvoy, Linda Kopatch, Karen Nelson, Pam Porter, Shiela Prout, Christina Anteler and Priscilla Young. Advisors to the groups are Mrs. Robert Foster, Mrs. Eugene Hand, Mrs. Chester Kopatch and Mrs. Arthur McEvoy.

The South school Pretty Blue and Camp Fire Girls met with their leader, Mrs. Charlotte Murphy and Mrs. Maurice Roch, this week.

The hostess was Katy Strobel, secretary Aileen Roch, and treasurer Nancy Lemire. The group went to the Junior High school for the annual banquet.

Youth Center

The annual meeting and banquet for the Board of Directors will be held Wednesday, May 6.

Included in the program will be a judo demonstration by members of the Center's junior judo class. These lessons in self defense have proved to be among the most popular ever offered.

Basketball leagues all have completed their competition schedules. Top boys in the Junior division were awarded individual and team trophies, and Harold Whitworth of Andover donated and awarded trophies to team and individual winners in the Senior division.

April 25 is the date of the last Junior Dance for the year. The committee is busy working out plans for the gala which will be held from 6 to 8 p.m. That afternoon marks the official end of bowling competition. Bowlers leading their respective divisions

Many Problems Face Recreation Committee

Countless problems — all serious and without solutions — confronted the Recreation Committee Monday night.

And for nearly four hours, members grappled with such diverse concerns as the progress of the sewer installations, conflicts in scheduling the use of baseball diamonds, who sets policy, and a host of others.

Early in the session, Donald Sagaser was named chairman and Dan Armstrong, vice chairman. Director Leslie Bartow continues as secretary.

All seven members were present — four for the first time.

They agreed to press the Selectmen and town manager for information and action on a variety of items. But most important of these is the sewer line. Next is a reported conflict in scheduling athletic events. Mr. Bartow reported that Highway Supt. Stanley Chlebowski actually schedules most Little League and other use of baseball diamonds because he's the one who controls maintenance, field marking, etc.

This seemed incongruous to members of the Committee, who wondered how two departments can successfully schedule the diamonds.

The sewer problem, they felt, merits special attention because it may interfere with the summer program at Pump's Pond. In general, members feel that the town can schedule this work whenever it wants — that the loudest complaints get the most attention. Thus, in addition to a letter, the Selectmen will get numerous personal calls from Committee members urging that work be done in that area before the Pond opens.

The Committee agreed to set up sub-committees to work in various aspects of the over-all program. One or more members will head these sub-committees, but many townspeople may be asked to serve as well.

The problem of playground hours, and proper staffing of all the grounds, occupied the Committee throughout the evening. They were trying to find out what the Selectmen told Director Bartow when he and Town Manager Duff conferred with the Board.

Mr. Bartow said it is his present understanding that the Selectmen want all playgrounds open for the same times and duration as last year. This, he said, leaves the department without a staff for the playground at the Recreation Park.

A playground for the North District school area was discussed, as was the request by newly-appointed member James D. Platt for transportation in that area for those children wishing to attend Pump's Pond activities. Usually, the bus has stopped at the West School but does not pick up anywhere else in the western end of town.

Sub-Committees Are Functioning

Six sub-committees have been formed by the Recreation Committee — each dealing with a specific part of the over-all program.

Members and their assigned responsibilities are:

Property — Earl Simon; public relations, James D. Platt; policy, Mrs. Virginia Cole; planning, James O'Reilly; program-personnel, Dan Armstrong; finances, Mrs. Rita Leigh.

Each of the sub-committees will have a specific function — Director Leslie Bartow will meet with each member to discuss his concept of the sub-committee work.

Later, townspeople will be added to the sub-committees where they can best function.

It was brought out during the Recreation Committee meeting Monday night that the sub-committee idea had been turned down by the Committee previously.

Also approved Monday night was a schedule for meetings on the first and third Mondays of the month, until such time as members agree to return to monthly sessions.
